

UPS & GENERATOR HIRE

Eaton under the Powerware brand has been protecting mission-critical operations since the days when a mainframe needed its own room. That's over 35 years of experience in the power protection industry and our expertise has expanded from UPS's to DC applications and Generators. Today Eaton's distinction comes from applying our large system engineering expertise to more modular, and therefore more available and flexible uninterruptible power systems.

The result has been not only an expansive line but also one of the industry's most comprehensive service offerings. Part of this expansion of our product and service lines has led us to look at all possible scenarios our customers may find themselves in, and alongside installing, commissioning and supporting your Powerware products we understand that our customer's requirements change over time, and sometimes quite suddenly. Businesses move location, take up temporary office space, reduce and expand their operations and in an ever increasingly competitive world our customers want to be sure before they invest large amounts of capital in any type of hardware.

This is why Powerware provide service offerings which allow our customers to adapt to their changing business environments by effectively utilising our UPS's and Generators on a short or long term basis according to their needs.

Perhaps your business is in temporary space whilst building new offices, or finding the right location. As all of our customers know, it only takes a minute for the loss of Power to leave you exposed to downtime, damage and loss of productivity, saying "well it's only for a few months" could have disastrous consequences.

Perhaps you're not sure of your requirements or want to see the benefit of your purchase before you make the investment. Protecting your building with both a Generator to ensure permanent back-up and a UPS to provide you with that immediate and often critical support will let you see that support in action and help ensure you invest in the right protection for your critical equipment.

Maybe you have outgrown your current UPS & Generator facilities, we can expand that facility immediately whilst plans are made and/or building work completed for permanent growth.
